

Comparison of the State Clean Indoor Air Law and Local Smoke-free Laws

The State clean indoor air law allows local communities to maintain and enact more restrictive smoke-free laws. If there is a local clean indoor air law in a community with any provisions that are stricter than the state law, these provisions will stay in effect. For those provisions in the local law that are weaker than the state law, the new state law provisions will take effect on July 1, 2010. Below are the local laws currently in effect.
